PHYSIC, SURGERY, MID-WIFERY, &c.

THE Subscriber takes this method of in-forming the inhabitants of Alexandria and its neighbourhood, that he has just fixed himself as a resident amongst them, for the purpose of becoming a Practitioner in MEDICINE, SURGERY, in all its Branches, MIDWIFERY and the Diseases of the TEETH; he trusts that fix years unremitting attention, in the most approved Schools of Europe, to the different divisions of Science which compose his prolession, will enable him to discharge its duties in a manner that shall be consistent with the falety and welfare of the Patient, as well as the reputation and dignity of the Profession itself; he hopes also that he will be found to practice on fully as reasonable terms as any reputable Practitioner can afford to do. There is one circumstance to which he could wish to be permitted the liberty of asking attention, it is the Vaccine Innoculation, the greatest discovery, perhaps, that has ever been made in Medicine. Medical Science has justly been complained of, as making flow progress; as travelling in a dull, halting gait; but, relative to Vaccine Innoculation, she has lately made a rapid, a gigantic stride of improvement, one that tends to expunge from the catalogue of Difeafes the most odious and calamitous that ever assicted man, the Small-Pox. This then being the character of the discovery, the Subscriber trusts he may be believed when he afferts, that the full and complete diffusion of its benefits is what most fincerely interests him; even though wholly abstracted from any considerations of pecuniary advantage; he has been informed, that medical characters in this place, of much skill and bene-volent intention, have found impediments to the success of the Vaccine Innoculation, and that fuch impediments, though they feem fomewhat peculiar to this country, have confiderably limited the sphere of its usefulness. To investigate and remove the causes of those impediments will Rai kegs and boxes.

Queen. Ware in crates, handsomely be an object of his most unceasing attention, and should there be any persons in this town or its vicinity, who would wish to participate in the benefits of the discovery, but may feel themselves referained by pecuniary motives, he will innoculate and carry them through the disease free from all expence whatever. He has been samiliarly acquainted with it in Europe, and polleffes in-ftructions given to him by the author of the dif-covery himself, whereby it may be most certain-ly and truely communicated, and as prudently and fafely managed; thefe are circumstances too, of no small importance, as upon the communi-cation of the true Veccine Difease, and the prudent management of it depends the ample and wide extended bleffing, which, under fuch circumstances, it is fully capable of conferring on the human species; for, if the salfe disease be communicated instead of the true, though only in a few instances, and the true disease not properly managed, it will involve the merits of the remedy in doubt and uncertainty, and ultimately bring it into total difrepute and ufelefsnefs. The Subscriber may be seen, by applying at his Shop, Prince street, nearly opposite Dr. Dick's, or at his lodgings, at Mrs. Griffith's,

FROM THE NEW YORK EVENING POST. rect opinions, on the subject of the report,

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED tion of the causes, which have occasioned STATES.

Since my address, on the subject of the Report of the Committee of Investigation, was committed to the press, I have discovered that after the rifing of Congress, a lec and edition of that Report, with a number of documents annexed, was printed by order of the house of Representatives and distributed to the members of Congress .-This fact, which has but lately come to my knowledge, appears to require from me a few observations, in addition to my former ad drefs.

The accounts open in the books of the Treasury appear in the statement which was transmitted to the Committee, under a new arrangement. Under the title " Domestic expenditures, of a miscellaneous lows: Beginning upon Pitt freet 151 feet | civil nature," are included a variety of expenditures, which have hitherto been reand running thence fouthwardly with Pitt | ferred to diffinet heads in the public printed accounts; among these are advances the fouth line of the lot of Jesse Taylor, for the payment of military pensions, light bouses, the mint establishment, and a lean to the city of Washington; also other advances, in consequence of special acts of Congress.

> Some of the observations in my address, with reference to the accounts of the civil lift, were made upon a prefumption, that the ancient arrangement of the accounts had been continued. I do not mean to luggest that the new arrangement is an improper one, and I mention the fact, merely to prevent a misunderstanding of my observations. I, however, perceive of magnanimity! But now, by listening no cause to retract the opinion, that the public will suffer no loss whatever in the payment of the compensation and salaries of the members of the legislative, Executive, and Judicial departments of every grade, from the establishment of the Government; and I am convinced, that a few thousand dollars will cover every loss, on a fettlement of the accounts of the marshals, and | derer. From the serious and virtuous part most probably also, all the accounts comprehended under the new head, entitled,

Domestic expenditures, of a miscellaneous ivil nature.

The committee reported the expenditures for the Navy department, from the establishment of the Department in 1798, to the 31st of March, 1801, inclusively of the fum paid by the Treasury to individu. als, as amounting to 9,981,313 dollars and 73 cents. An examination of the documents recently published, enables me to state, that this sum comprises the expenditures described by the committee to the 1st of January, 1802, nearly ten months after the commencement of the prefent administration. I was mistaken in considering the Committee as having reported the furr before mentioned, as comprising the payment made at the Treasury. It is a fact, that only a part of the payments made to individuals at the Treasury was included .-The sum stated by the committee is however, erroneous, as it appears from the do. cuments annexed to their report, that including all the advances made to individuals at the Treasury, and including the stock issued in payment of the vessels built by creature into the presence of his God, all the contributions of the merchants, the expenditures for the navy Department to the the teel for the agony of the wi-31st of March, 1801, amounted to no dowed wife—the helplessness of orphan more than 9,643,455 dollars and 3 cents | children, which this cruel, this execrable —there has, consequently, been an over- practice so often occasions. The amount represented by the committee as " unaccounted for or unfettled." in the Navy Department appears to confift of balances on the books of the Accountant on the 1st of January 1802, being 4,170,651 dollars and 7,5 cents. The accounts to anuary 1802, include ex. penditures under the present administration exceeding the sum of 1,250,000 dolls. | duel-and while to decline a personal com-I am not able to afcertain the proportion of this fum, which remained unaccounted for, when the Report was made, but it must have been considerable.

have I reduced myfelf by one inconfiderate act! But a few days have clapfed fince my mind was composed, and at peace with Heaven and with man; now, to what a melancholy state am I hro't. My heart reproaches me, and forever will reproach me, for liftening to the call of falle honor, and taking the life of one who was not my enemy, and whom I had injured and infulted. Why had I not the refolution to despise the opinion of that part of the world who confider this barbarous custom as a proof of brawery? Alas, why did I not, like a man and a christian, resolve to Jorgive the injury I supposed done to my-Self? With what felf congratulation would I ever after have looked back on this act to the voice of paffion, I have drawn on myself evils that will coirode my heart to the end of life, already the devill, from the infernal world, have feized on my bosom end filled it with horrors. From above, no cheering ray of confolation dawns on my guilty foul. To Heaven I cannot raife a prayer, for Heaven abhors the murof lociety I can obtain no relief; there every look feems to reproach me. As I walk the streets, me thinks the finger of being supported. Whether, indeed, the detestation is pointed at me. In the fideglances and downcast looks of my old acquaintance, I think I read repugnance and reproach. Within my own feart I have still less satisfaction-I have become my own most deadly foe. In the folemn hour of night, when the eyes of the rest of sciety are sealed in slumber, mine are kept open by remorfe and agony. Oh, that I could flee from my felf! Oh, that I had never been born-or that I had been made a beast or a reptile, rather than a rational, an immortal being. Of the determination of Government to profecute L'Ambigu, which we noticed yesterday, in consequence of the libels sup. posed to be contained in it against the perfon and authority of the First Confu!, there is no doubt. Mr. Peltier, the E. ditor, has, however, fignified his intention of suppressing the publication, and it is imagined that the French Minister will in. terfere to prevent the Attorney General from proceeding with the profecution.

September 1. We yesterday received Paris journals to the 28th. Se eral of the Journals con. tain accounts from Ratisbon, which, if true, are of considerable importance. If they be true, indeed, it is evident that the Emperor of Germany has not been conful. ted in the System of Indemnities, so "difinterestedly" recommended by France and Russia. We have already mentioned that the Austrian Commander would not permit the Bavarian troops to take possession of Passau, and its district, assigned to the Elector by the proposed indemnities. A Convention agreed upon by the Comman. ders to wait for orders from their respective Courts, was not ratified by the Elector of Bavaria, and in confequence of the latter perfilting in his intention to take possession of the territories in question, and causing troops to advance, the Austrians have occupied the Fortress and Bishopricks of Passau on both sides of the Inn, includ. ing what had been allotted to the Elector of Bavaria, as well as that to the Grand Duke of Tuscanv.

The Elector of Bavaria, it is evident, durst not thus commit himself in a contest with Austria, unless on the certainty of firmness of the Emperor may not induce the "difinterested" Co-Partitioners to modify the scheme to his advantage, is a question which we do not venture to decide. The conduct of the Emperor, it is obvious, is dictated more by a general disapprobation of the scheme of Indemnities, than by the immediate arrangement regarding the Elector of Bavaria. The dispute, therefore, on this point, brings the whole to iffue.

September 5. The intelligence by this conveyance not very interesting. The accounts from Ratisbon are of the 16th of August, a which time the Plan of indemnities ha not been presented to the Diet : bur Citi zen Bacher, the French Envoy there, had received, on the 13th, the Senatus Co fultum, containing the new Regulation for the Confliction, which he had com municated to the Dier by delivering printed copy of the Moniscar. The letters by the Dutch mail affert that Austria will not relinquish any of the districts belonging to Bavaria on the right bank of the Inn. The retention or abandonment of those districts does not, however, depend upon the cabinet of Vienna. A hint from Ruffia and France will be futficient to clear both banks of the Inn, and make the Austrian government recall every battalion from the Bavarian frontier.

The decline of the Republican lunds is, we apprehend, to be chiefly attributed to the financical embarraffments of the government. It is reported, that luch have been the expences of the expeditions to take possession of the ceded islands, the ordinary demands of large military ellablishments, and the want of an Administration little distinguished for economy, that great arrears have been incurred. To alleviate the diffress, and to procure temporary aid, it is faid to be in contemplation to raise a loan. In a country where, as at present in France, there is so little confidence, money is scarce and dear, such a measure most fall heavy on the money market. Money now bears an enormous interest in France. The best Bankers' paper is at 9 per cent. inferior classes from that to 15.

NEW YORK, October 23. A gentleman of this city, has put into our hands a letter from Cape Francois, dated the 15th Sept. It mentions, that no part of the cargo of a veffel just arrived from New York, would clear the expences; lumber would not fetch the first cost. Vessels were continually arriving from every part of America, of which a great number leave the place and proceed to ports to the leeward. Lumber has become prohibited, on account of the great quantity arrived there; as also dry goods

Another letter, dated the 25th Sept. from a respectable mercantile house in Cape Francois, states, that the Cape was enturbed by a new rebellion of negroes; and all kinds of business at stand, except building houses, which was going on very brifkly. Flour was from 10 to 12 dollars, beef 12, pork 20 to 22; hogs-

TRANSLATIONS, From late French papers, received as the office of the Philadelphia Gazette.

HAVRE DE GRACE, Aug. 21. Since the arrete of July 22, trade is on a furer and more regular footing. The duties established on coloniel commodities in foreign velfels, and from any other place than our colonies, has put an end to the great number of foreigners who filled up our stores and drew out our cash. Trade is become more national, and vessels are to be cleared out for our colonies, that will supply the wants of our consumption, and will enable us foon to supply, as formerly, the north and fouth of Europe, with an immense overplos.

The consequence of the new regulations has been an increase in the price of colonial commodities, particularly of fugars and coffee; this increase would have been quicker, had it not been flopt by restraint, and the scarcity of cash. Brown sugar that fell to about ten dollars, has been raifed this month to more than twelve; and it is thought it will be higher. It is certain that the first 6 months, but a little quantity of fugar can be fent from St. Domigo. and the duties of two crowns and half per cwt. on brown fugar, and 5 doll and 40 cents on superior quality, is heavy, that it is next to impossible that i should be cheaper. The Executors of the late Gen. Geo. Waftington, offer for Sale, the following TRACIS OF LAND, viz.

A tract in Loudoun county on Difficult Run, containing 300 acres. The foil well adapted for farming and a confiderable proportion of it might eafily de improved into meadow. There is a valuable mill-feat on the premifes. It lies on the great road from the City of Washington, Alexandria and George Town to Leesburgh and Winchester, nineteen miles from Alexandria, less from the City and George Town and not more than three from the Great Falls of Potomac.

One tract containing 2,481 acres lying in the counties of Loudoun and Fauquier, called Ashby's Bent. The soil is that which is said to be most favorable to Plaster of Paris, well watered by several never failing streams issuing from the mountain - part of this land is cleared and tenanted for lives.

One tract lying part in each of the above counties, containing 885 acres Chatten's run passes through this tract and tives feveral valuable mill-feats. The foil is fimilar to the above tract and equally favorable to Plaster of Paris.

A tract on the South Fork of Bullkin, containing 1600 acres-One al lo, Head of Evans's Mill, containing 453 acres, and one on Wormley's line, containing 183 acres. These several tracts are in Jefferson (late Berkeley county)—the foil very fimilar in quality, and particularly adapted to the culture of Tobacco, Hemp, Wheat and Indian Corn, fituated twelve miles from Harper's Ferry.

One tract containing 571 acres in Frederick county, this land is in the vicinity of the last mentioned tracts and equally valuable.

One tract in Hampshire county containing 240 acres—this tract, tho' finall is extremely valuable. It lies on Potomac river about 12 miles above the town of Bath (or Warm Springs) and is vember, if fair, if not the next fair in the shape of a horse-shoe, the river running almost round it; two hundred acres of it are rich low grounds, with a great abundance of the largest Walnut and other trees, which with the produce of the foil, might (by means of the improved navigation of the Potomac) be brought to a shipping port with more ease and at a smaller ly 30 miles by land.

> One third part of 1119 acres on the road from Suffolk to Norfolk and in Nanfemond river—this land is confidered extremely valuable by those who are acquainted with it.

One tract in Charles county, Maryland, containing 600 acres—it is very level and lies near the river Potomac.

One tract in Montgomery county, Maryland, containing 519 acres -This land lies about 30 miles above the City of Washington, not far from Kettoctan and is good farming land.

One tract in Penniylvania, containing 234 acres - This land affords an exceeding good stand on Braddock's road from Fort Cumberland to Pittsburg and a large quantity of natural meadow fit for the scythe. It is distinguished by the appellation of the Great Meadows, where the first action with the French, in the year 1754, was fought.

One other tract on the Mohawk river, State of New-York, containing 1000 acres.

In North West Territory, Three tracts lying on Little Miami, containing 3051 acres.

In Kentucky. On Rough Creek, one tract containing 3000 acres; ditto adjoining 2000 acres. Indisputable titles can be given for the above lands. Lots in the City of Walhington.

Eleven thousand acres of land in one or more lots; laying in the county of Fayette, state of Kentucky about 30 miles from Lexington and Frankfort, 20 miles fouth east of the Ohio River and adjacent to the public road between the two Maima Rivers and feveral rifing fettlements. The foil generally good, well watered and timber of various descrip-

These lands within 15 miles of Main Lecking and Kentucky rivers, both navigable two to three hundred miles above the extremity of the lands.

To be fold at the fame time and place as the above, another TRACT of LAND of nine thousand acres, in one or more lots, in the county of Fayette, state of Kentucky, nearly the fame diliance from Lexington, Frankfort and the Ohio Rivers, as the foregoing tract, and lays between the former and Main Lecking river, difcant from the latter only a few miles.

The foil is in general good, well watered and timber of different kinds, and as the former tract, in the neighborhood of the fettled parts of Kentucky, and opposite a Jersey settlement. The grants by Edmund Randolph, Esq. in 1787 and 1788, and the title deeds are clear and indisputable.

As these lands are to be disposed of for behalf of creditors, they will be positively fold to the highest bidder, for appoved notes at two and three months.

Capt. Fowler or Mr. James Masterson of Lexington; Mr. George Brook, Clerk of Woodford county; or major John Lee near Frankfort will point out the lands. For further information and an accurate plan of the lands, apply to John & Charles Wilkes Elgrs. or Lewis Simond Efq. New York, or to Mr. Brown, Dumfries, Vir-
